

2010 BELLA ROUGE ROSE

Langmeil
BAROSSA

[THE STORY]

Many Europeans choose this style of wine for their drinking pleasure during the Mediterranean summer. This is why we took the name from two traditional wine growing countries, Bella - Italian for beautiful and Rouge - French for red, to label this beautiful red.

[WINEMAKING NOTES]

This special wine is made from premium Cabernet Sauvignon grapes from the Barossa Valley. The skin contact was only 24 hours, capturing the essence of the fruit but with fine tannins. The result is a light, crisp, beautifully coloured wine with the unmistakable taste of summer berries. A wine produced by our climate for our climate, the ideal drink for a summer's day - serve chilled.

COLOUR • Brilliant red with pink, purple hues.

NOSE • Fresh raspberries and strawberries jump deliciously from the glass with hints of toffee apple.

PALATE • The fresh and juicy summer berries flow into the palate with good acidity to balance the sweetness. A lovely long, fruitful finish mingles with a hint of briary spice and granny smith apples.

FOOD MATCHING • Light and spicy Asian foods.

PEAK DRINKING • Drink young, fresh and zingy.
